Welcome to EngOnline

EngOnline is a grammar course geared to the needs of the students at Chalmers University of Technology. It comprises a grammar book and exercises. Before you start working, we want you to register to a group. The group is typically connected to a course that you are taking. If you do not know which group you belong to, press 'My progress' to enter the program.

If you have not used EngOnline before, we suggest that you do the following things after you have registered to a group:

1. First take the Diagnostic test to determine which chapters you need to practise the most. An EngOnline course book, based on your result on the diagnostic test, will be generated when you press 'submit'.
2. At this stage you can start working with the grammar instructions and exercises.
3. When you feel you have studied a chapter enough, you can take a 'Progress check' to check up on what you have learned.

USING ENGOONLINE TO STUDY

To help you practice your grammar, find the areas you need to practice.

The list on the right contains information about different types of grammar issues.

The screenshot shows the EngOnline 'My Progress' page. At the top, there is a navigation bar with 'EngOnline' and 'My Progress'. Below this, the main heading is 'My Progress Stats from the Diagnostic Test'. A paragraph explains that users can see their results from the diagnostic text and progress checks, and suggests taking the diagnostic test for a comprehensive overview. A blue button labeled 'Take the Diagnostic Test' is visible. Below the text is a table titled 'The Book' showing diagnostic test scores for various chapters. To the right, a sidebar menu is visible, listing various grammar topics, with 'My Progress' highlighted in blue. A purple circle highlights the sidebar menu.
